You are invited to take part in a Brown University research study.

What is this study about?

The purpose of this study is to examine voter attitudes.

Why I am I being asked to participate?

Eligible participants are residents of the United States who are 18 years of age or older. If you do not meet these requirements, please close the window.

Your decision to participate or decline participation in this study is completely voluntary and you have the right to terminate your participation at any time without penalty. If you do not wish to complete this survey just close your browser.

What will I be asked to do?

You will be asked to answer some questions about yourself and your opinions on politics. You will also be asked to indicate your preferences for hypothetical candidates.

This study will take approximately 5-7 minutes of your time.

Will I be paid?

You will receive $1.00 upon completing this study and submitting the HIT.

What are the risks?

The risks to individuals participating in this survey are comparable to those that exist in daily life from reading the news or during normal Internet use. You may refuse to answer any questions you are uncomfortable with and you may end your participation in this study at any time. If you wish to withdraw from the study or have any questions, contact the investigator listed above.

What are the benefits?

Although your participation in this research may not benefit you personally, it will help us understand how voters think about politics and elections.

How will my information be protected?

Participant data will be linked to your assigned Amazon Mechanical Turk ID, but no personally identifiable information will be collected (e.g., name, address, phone number, email). The collection of IDs is required in order to be able to confirm that subjects who submit the completed task on Mechanical Turk completed the study. Resulting publications will not contain any identifiers, including Mechanical Turk IDs. The researchers will make no attempt to link the respondents' codes to identifiable information that might be found about them by using that code on the Internet. To protect your privacy, archival copies of data are kept in password protected electronic folders.

What if I want to stop?

Taking part in research is voluntary. You do not have to be in this study if you do not want to be. Even if you decide to be in this study, you can change your mind and stop at any time.

If you refuse to participate in or leave the study, your current or future relationship with the researchers and their respective institutions will not be affected

Who can I talk to if I have questions?

If you have any questions about your participation in this study, you can call Cory Manento at 860-866-6038 or email cory_manento@Brown.edu. If you have questions about your rights as a research participant, you can contact Brown University's Human Research Protection Program at 401-863-3050 or email them at IRB@Brown.edu.

Please print a copy of this consent form for your records, if you so desire.
